STEREO WORLD

Captain EO ★ World Flight ★ Santa's Workshop

THE MAGAZINE OF STEREO PHOTOGRAPHY

THE UNKNOWN KNOWNS

by Neal Bullington

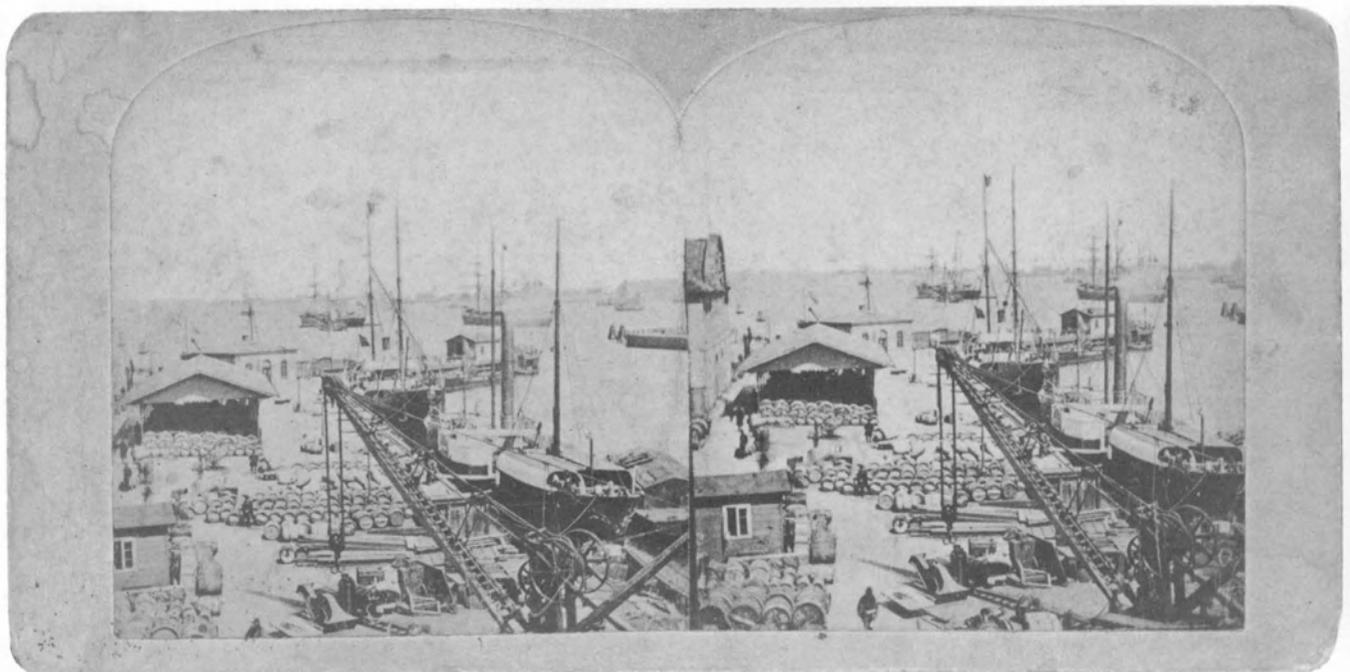

We have some unknowns from Carl Wiederanders to run past you this issue. First is a view by Haines & Elliot of Albany, N.Y. of an imposing-looking group of men apparently listening to a speaker. The card is yellow.

Next we have a harbor scene with many barrels ready for loading at a dock. The ship at the dock seems to have both masts and a smokestack.

Located at No. 53 on an unknown street is Jacob Skillman's jewelry store with clocks and watches on display in the windows. "? & Davis—Merchant Tailors" are upstairs, as is "Walter—Dentist," while "Walters and Davis" advertise their "Fine Woolens."

Finally, a gray card shows the bunting-draped Utah Building, perhaps at one of the large expositions?

FRONT COVER:

"Hooter" is one of the characters in the multi-million dollar 17 minute 3-D musical space adventure now playing exclusively at Disneyland and Disney World. STEREO WORLD was on hand for the film's lavish premiere on Sept. 13th at Disneyland. Our article on the film, its production, and its theater is by Susan Pinsky, Bill Shepard and David Starkman.
